RE: COVID-19 Pandemic

News: Covid-19 Situation update

Portalp teams are combining their efforts to face the pandemic and provide emergency services. Our priority is and remains the health and well-being of our teams and stakeholders.

Further to the outbreak situation, we have immediately conducted a risk analysis and implemented our Business Continuity Plan (BCP).

Following the governments decisions, we have implemented a temporary furlough of nonessential positions. When on the field, our technical teams act cautiously in accordance with W.H.O. recommendations.

Our stakeholder relationships

Within the Portalp group, most of the teams in sales, engineering, administration remain available. We have deployed a remote network with our embedded communication solutions. Most of our staff can be reached preferably via email or alternatively via mobile phone. If needed, please use our website contact form.

Our service activity

In order to contribute with the global effort requested by governments, we have decided to maintain service activity for essential industries.

Our aftersales teams are focusing on trouble shooting and providing spare parts. Should you need assistance for urgent matters, please contact us.

Our manufacturing

Our operations in production have been dramatically reduced and impacted by current difficulties in sourcing key components.

However, we still can ensure a basic continuity of activity in order to manufacture and deliver auto doors for public utility services.

If needed, please use our website contact form.

Portalp will communicate with you regularly during this period.

All of the measures are to protect the health and wellbeing of our communities.

See you soon, as soon as possible!

The Portalp Team
